JAPANESE OSSERVATIONS ON ENGLISH MAN-MERS.-An English journal affords us a brief glance at the contents of a diary, published at Yeddo, made up from the observations of the Japanese ambassadors in their European tonr. We got only, as the New York Johrnal of Commerce says, a very few plnms from the ple, and even those, doubtless, heving been selected by a British Editor for British readers, here not been called because they were the least flattering to British Icelings of anythirg which the tourists may have said. The prond Miss McBride was not only proud per se, but prend of her pride; and on the seme principle, we suppose, it does not offend our English friends to have it said, as in this diary, that they are "stiff" and "a little prond," while even the epithet "rough," which is also used, mny be construed as being merely a strong expression for the blant honesty characteristic of British "hearts of oak." What can be said, however, when to an affectation of superior refinement in social intercourse, the Orientals bring an acensation against the English of disgusting savagery in the exhibition of raw meat in public places? "Esting meat is often very heelthy," say tho Japanese critics, whose sensibilities were shocked by this display, "ont why exhibit it to every one?" The question might, with still greater propriety, be asked here in New York, where we may see raw meat in eating house windows, cut into the semblance of living animals, and even of the mman form, as if for the gratification of a ennibal eppetite. We shall, therefore, claim no superiority over our British cousins on this score, and, in fact, may as well consider ourselves included in a large part of the bill of judictment. We except the count on the subject of haughtiness. "The merchants arn proud, and the shopkeepers do not like one to turn their articles to much about," say the Japanese. Here the contrary is proved by conspicuous placards displayed in stores, announcing that it is "no trouble to show goods." The English ruu (or walk) very fast, just as the Japanese do when there is a fire. The women are, meny of them, handsome, but "they rnu like a mau." Iu order to appear taller they wenr n high bonnet. Hven fashionable women dance very much; they hang on the arm of the men, and one sees the men frequently run along the street in the arms of women. We believe them to be their own wives. Women in general enjoy too much liberty, and the fashionnble ones wear the same dresses as those of the lower class. The dress of the women, especially at night, is not plways decent. The last assertion is of sonse to be repelled; and concerning the amonut of liberty enjoyed by the sex, it is equally a matter of course that neither Tur-

The least palatable, to British tastes, of all there indoments passed upon European civiliration is yet to come, however. The French are accorded the unquestioned superiorlty in the use of arms, and Waterloo is not even mentioned. There is no need of going forther in order to escertain what must be the feeling of every patriotic Haglishman conserning these pretentions bat tawny and ig-tion in England or America.

Iaish Emigration.—The English papers ntinne to notice the flow of emigration from Ireland. At Ontenstown, on the 12th of May the City of Washington took 320 passengers, making her entire number 700, and leaving 300 persons behind, who had provided pagsage-tickets. The Cork Reporter says the rush is so great that persons desirous of being booked would not be entered for any time bility of being obliged to wait still longer. Over 2,000 persons are already entered to sail in the Iuman Company's boats, and before one of that unmber can be sent there will be a vast jucrease by other entries made in Liverpool and Queenstown, and by the receipt of advance fares paid in America. "When it is considered," says the Reporter, "that this company despatches three boats every fortnight, and that the Ounard Company's hoats depart weekly, and that the emigration conthrucd through the whole of the past winter, although previously it ceased during the ungenial weather, some notice may he formed of the magnitude of that tide which is ceaselessly rolling from our shores." One day recently 70 persons from Tralee and Killaruey took their departure for New York. Next day the unmber was between 200 and 300, o whom 40 had their passages paid by Lord Castleresse. All of them had been the occnpauts of small farms, and are described as the bone and sinew of the country. This movement may be said to be nniversal, though prevailing more in some districts than in othdian, au English paper, referring to the feeling in Great Britain in regard to the position of the German Powers, observes that a vear or two ago a rumor to the effect that the French were preparing to extend their frontier to the left bank of the Rhine, would have created the greatest excitement in England, and the almost nnanimons sentiment, among all classes, would have been that Continent must not be tolerated for nu honr. Even the first steps in the realization of such a scheme would have been the signal for u rupture of friendly relations with France, if not for open opposition. Now, it says, that "if Louis Napoleon were to move for that object, the first remark of nine ont of ten Eng-Pinssla right; she has set the example of spollation and oppression, and we at least will not interfere to save her Irom the merited pnuishment of her wrong-doing."

At a recent meeting of the Paris Academy of Sciences Mons. Prevet communicated some observations on the possibility of using the seed of the carob tree for the preparation of a drink which might be substituted for cof fee. He describes this drink as very agreeable, even without eugar, and thinks it may sult persons who find coffee too excling.

Mrs. Arnold, a sieter of Stonewall Jackson, has been stopping in Wheeling for a couple of weeks. Mrs. Arnold's hasband was arrested sometime since upon charges of disloyalty, preferred by his wife. Mrs. A. is said to be a strong supporter of the Federal Government, and is therefore not very popular with the friends of her deceased brother.

The town of Geneseo, Livingston courty, New York, which, according to the census ol 1860, contained three thousand and two luincluding six haudred and sixtyfive voters, has furnished for the war two hnudred and fifty-six volunteers, three conscripts, and six substitutes. One of them was the late General Wadsworth.

The principal reason of Louis Napoleon's inactivity and lack of warlike spirit is in consequence of the state of his health. He is reported to have "Bright's disease" (of the kidneys), a complaint that is certain to carry kidneys), a complaint that is certain to carry off its victim in one or two years at furthest.

Mrs. Gov. Seymour has received, through the Bishop of Buffalo, from the Pape of Rome, $600 for the relief of wounded United States off its victim in one or two years at furthest.

The French government found itself in minority of one on the question as to the francs to the femily of Lesnrones. This claim has been repeatedly brought before the Freuch Leglelainre, but has hitherto always been successfully resisted by the government for tho time being. As the particulars of the case are very singular und interesting, we extract

On the 22d of April, 1796, a fair-haired man, named Juseph Legarques, arrived in Paris from Donal, his native town, with hir wise and three children. He was a men some thirty-three years old, had about £600 a year, and had come to Paris to educate his children. Un the day of his arrival he visited one Guo, a cerrier of Donai, who invited him to akisst the next day; he went, and met for e first time one Conriol. On the 8 h Flore r gentlemen, one of whom was Conriol, and other had light flaxen halr, rode ont of Paris ugh the barrier of Charenton; they diged at where the fair-haired man found he had and borrowed some thread to mead this; he was not very skilful in mendiog i d a female servant relieved him of the tast hen the mnu rejoiced his compenions, and fter driuking some wins at the inn, they all ode on. But the lair haired man was destited to be unlucky, he foon found he had left a sabre, which, like the rest, he wore at the inn, end he galloped back for it, had a glass of brandy, and again set off after his friends. Meenwhile the conrier from Paris to Lyons had stopped at the iun to change horses, and he set off on the same road, accompanied by a postillion and the single passenger allowed to be taken in by him. The next morning the conrier and postillion were found killed by the wayside, the mail-begs rifled, and one horse gone. Between four and five the same morning five persons entered Paris by the barrier of Rambonillet, and a little after the the P ace Royale, while four horses in a very jaded condition were returned to a horsekeeper by two persons (one of them Conriol) who had hired them the morning before Couriol was soon arrested, and also Gnesno, but as the latter proved a distinct alibi, he wes immediately discharged. The next day Guesno wished to return to Donsi, and proceeded to the magistrata who had investigated the charge egainst him for a permit. On the roel he called ou his friend Lesurques, who accom-panied him. But at the magistrate's they found the innkeeper of Mongeron and the maid servant of the Lieursaint cafe, both o whom denounced Guesno and Lesnrques as nized Lesurques as one of the party who had dined at Mongeron. The maid servant swere he was the man whose spar chain she had mended, and embsequently the innkeeper stable boy, and a gardener at Lieurs sint, de posed that he was the horsemen who had ro-turned for the sabre he hed left behind. Lesur-ques, Gnesno, and Couriol were tried. The alibi establ shed by Gnesno was complete, and e was acquitted. The witnesses persisted in declaring that Lesurques was one of the sarty; hu, on the other hand, he called two tradesment who swore that they had dired with him in Parls on the evening of the 8th, several work-man engaged about his apertments, who diaffirmed that he had had business transactions with Lesurques ou the 8th, and produced his account book to prove it. The book was exemined, and it was seen that '9th" had been backy crased and "8th" substituted for it. Lebadly erased and "Sth" substituted for it. Legrand was cross-questioned, confessed he had made the alteration to corroborate his testimony, and the witnesses for the defance were immediately discrodited. A female witness who followed was so severely examined by the presiding Judge that the fainted. The evidence was summed up, and the jury had retired to deliberate, when one Madeliue Biebau, the mistress of Conriol, insisted on being examined, and declared that she was ecquainted with the whole affair, and the withesses had mistaken Lesnrques for one uborg, to whem he bore an extraordinar resemblance. Her testimony was rejected, and the jury found Lesurques and Conriot guilty, and, in conformity with the practice of the time, condemned them to death. Oouriol

The day of his execution was Manndy Thursday, and he went to the scaffold dressed in white, the ould not die on the next day, the anniversary rrested, the witnesses who had identified Leantques were confronted with him and con-fessed their former error, and Dubosq was condemred and executed. In the meantime the accomplice who had travelled with the conficer had been found and condemned, souther had been found and condemned, and he had testified to the innocence of Lesurques. The two other murderers were afterwards tried and condemned, but the discovery of these was unnecessation. ry. The moment that Dubosq had been found guilty the innocence of Leanrquos was stablished. From that moment the tamily of Lesniques have struggled to procure a formal declaration of his innocence and a restitution of his property, which had been seized to make good the robbery of the mail, but their efforts have had small enccess. THE CONSERVATIVE UNION CONVENTION .-On our first page we print the full and offi-cial proceedings of this body, which convoued at Louisville on the 25th nlt attendance that a more harmonious and satia factory mass meeting of the citizens of Keutucky never assembled than this Convenilon. There was not a eingle "nay" vote cast upon any of the propositions presented for the coneideration of the meeting. Harmony and commendable characteristics. A large number of the delegates in attendance were men who have been honored by their fel owitizeus with offices of honer and trust; and who, since the inauguration of the present unhappy civil strife in our land have railed their voices and used their influence to retain cur noble old Commonwealth true to the Constitution and steadfast in the Union of States as formed by our fathers. Immovable and nuchangable has been their position in are we indebted for our comparative prosperi y when other portions of our land have been lesolated by the tread of hostile armies, and the lives and property of its citizens rondered insecure by the lnanguration of an intestine vil strife among neighbors, as has been the case in Missonri.

Again, when an uncertain future pregnaut with cvil is before our people, they have come together and have presented to the considera on of their fellow-citizene a series of resolu tions reaffirming those great principles upon which we have thus far succeeded, and addand planting themselves firmly and securely upon the Constitution of the United States as given by Washington and his associates, as the only bond of the Union.

They have done their duty nobiy. It will remain now for the people 10 ludorse their ec-tion by immediately organizing throughout the State for the approaching campaigu.

The convention also saw fit to nominate a electoral ticket composed of true and substant tial men. They have made wise select ons, and the people will honor them for their wis ency, ia a fitting acknowledgment of true worth and distinguished services. And should the National Convention at Chicago second on at the polls in November next, they will be assured of the enthusiastic and overwhelming support of all true Keotuckians. With such standard-bearers to lead, we would not depair of the Republic, but woold take fresh crurage to battle on in behalf of those principles which alone can bring us peare and tro-perity.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Journal.] OFFICE ASSISTANT QUARTERMASTER, } Baidgeport, ALA., May, 1864. For the short period of two months my imo was lately put in at Stevenson, Alabama, and whilst at that place had ample opportunity of observing what might be called "one way of squelching the rebellion." But of this

Ireland has been stationed tere, but the gallant Colonel and his brave booys are now nway down in Georgia teaching Joo Johuston a lesson. Colonel Lyon, of the 3th Wisconsia, is present communier of the post, a very efficient and gentlemanly officer, and one much liked by everybody. Colonel you possesses the singular faculty of im-giving himself an officer in command of the post, and not a little gnd with shoulder straps. For this resson all his intercourse with the world at large is characterized by common enee, which is saying a good deal.

The post of Stevenson will remain of great mportaneo during the continuance of the war. For some time it was the base of supplies while the army was menceuvring for the pos-session of Chattanooga. During all thet time an immense husiness was transacted by the Quariermaster Department, and under the auin management of Capt. W. A. Warren, an lewa officer, but u Kentuckien by birth. The succeesor of Capt. Warren was Cept. D. Y Kilgore. Shortly alter his advent there wes a rumor in well-informed circles that the learned and pious D. Y. was efflicted with what some esculapian politician has termed "Nigger on the brain," to say nothing of the diction of the same genins, caused no doubt by the critical speculations and subtile theong the beanties of slavery. However that nny bc, certain it is, that the worthy Querermaster devoted a great deal of time and atention to the bleck pepulation, which, in the pipion of many, might better have been exanded in attending to the duties of his office. For some reason, the energy and business-like appearance of the nost went down es negro stock went up, and, under his d spengalion, Stevenson gradually lapsed into state of idleress end lethargy, broken only by the shouts of young contrabands about the cheel-honse, in which the up-hill business of eaching their young ideas how to shoot was and is still being carried on. Not having much to do one day, I visited this school, and and-or saw, rather-much to interest a aturelist, but not much of anything else. be school is in charge of two ladies from the North, whose energy and self-secrifice are sertainly commendable, but of whose indis-cre ion in coming this fer in this business I have t much to say. However readily they may devote their time and energies to that urpose, they will never experience that enis an ambitious labor-the progress of the school and the gradual improvement of the school ar. It is a settled fact that school-teachng within the lines of the nrmy never proved dvantageous, and, at this post especially, it seems more a unisauce and a farce then to be: elit any parties concerned. The men of the colored race being mostly occupied by the ipping sauff, chewing and smoking tobacco We have heard of the youth to whom the onotable degree of M. D. was awarded for naving in his yonuger days swept medical olege, and having acquired a vast expeier ce and correct judgment of that branch by wing hit on the head with a medical book during his peculiar "studies." As that method pretty much applied at the school of o "higher class," we predict a rapid asyance and progressive steus to negro vouch Reader, descending rather heavily on the skull of several youngsters, but by no means too heavy, as the natural thickness of the naterial would not only permit, but demand heavy blow, to create communication between the book and the few scattering "Indians." These scholars, amounting to about 125, belong to the large negro population of this place, which alroady have transformed Stevenson into a negro settlement. Hundreds of cahins are elected and stuck up in all corners of the place, the inmates of which being at a heavy er of rations being issued them for which the Government receives not the slightest re-maneration. The interior and exterior of their homesteads represent the repuguant as-pect of fil hand dirt, which have ever been the ause of ragiug disease and destructive illness. Our army suffers severely from the annhila-ting steuch and breath forthcoming from these onie. Several serioue cases of measles, ty-boid fever, and small-pox, originating at tuoso quarters, have ravenously attacked our solders, thrown them on a sick couch, and or ught them to an untimely grave.

Inclinations of similar character were quicky removed at this place by that vig laut officer Oept. J. O. Clemen's, Assistant Quarter master, who niepersed the entire neighbor hood at a moment's warning, giving them marching orders and transportation to a more healthy climate. If a policy equal to that, is not adopted at Stevenson very early, the consequence must prove disastrons to the sanitary condition of that post this summer. But as the Quartermaster Department has under went a new change, it being now represent-hy Lient Ickelshoimer, the evil abuve refer red to challenges a bright prospect for re-moval. KENTUCKY SULDIER A SUCCESSPUL EDITOR AND AUTHOR -The 'Round Table," iu an a 'icle on "The Homes

Mon.—The mobbing of two loyal newspa-pera at Louisiana, Missouri, a few days ago, is a singular commentary on the working of martial law in this State. A crowd of soldiers, acting, not of their own intelligent voition, but upon the sinister promptings of ocal partisans, attacked the officea of the local partisans, attacked the Journal and the Union, smashed the presees, threw the type into the street, and after hav-ing made the work of destruction as complete as possible, concluded the wanton viouce by beating one of the Editora, who came to remonstrate against their lawless conduct Mr. Reid and Mr Monaghan have no means of redressing this wrong. If they appeal to the courts, they will find the puwers of the The Richmond Enquirer of May 27, in the court fettered by the irou shackles of martial law; if they appeal to the dispensers of martial law, they meet with nothing but indiffercuce, evecion, or positive contamely. They have no choice but silent submission to their injuries. The vindictive partisans who locited the soldiers to destroy their presses, tand ready to give them a still more serious proof of their hatred if they should complain its own which peculiarly illustrate the nastul-ness of Gen. Bragg. The escape of Sheridan's well know that if they would assure themcavalry, contived at, if not caused by his strategy, will exhibit his qualifications for as little about the outrage as possible. Martial law ought to be the system for the summary and energetic infliction of justice, the punishment of evil doers, and the preention of wrong. But martial law in Mis-ouri is little else than a code to override all civil law, and prevent justice from being done. The evils of a protracted reign of the very best form of martial law are universally edmitted; nevertheless, these evils may be atoned for, and the dispensation of the code mede eudurable, by the prevention or punin reaching, and the accomplishment of good which civil law ie too tardy in effecting. But unartial law ae administered in Miesouri is degenerating into a chronic evil. Ite powere are practically unlimited; but the affair at Louisiana ie one of a dozen eignal proofs that it uniformly rofusce either to or redrese the grossest wrongs. We have no iden that anything will be dono to punish the authore of the Louisiaua mob, or to compensate its victims for their injuries. WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1864.

The extradition treaty of 1842 with Great Britain, which was drawn when Daniel Webster was Secretary of State, in referring to the surrender of British citizens under its provisions, clearly lays down tho principles which governed the contracting parties in the following explicit language: "This shall only be done upon such evidence of criminality as, according to the laws of the place where the fugitive or person so charged shall be found, would justify his apprehension and commitment for trial, if the crime or offence had been there committed, and the respective judges or other magistrates of the two governments shall have power, jurisdiction, and authority, upon complaint made under oath, to issue a warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive or person so charged, that he may be brought before such judges or other magistratee respectively, to the end that the evidences of such criminality may be heard and considered; and if, on such bearing, the evidence he deemed sufficient to sustain the charge, it shall be the duty of the examining judge or magistrate to certify the same to the proper executive authority, that a warrant may issue for the surrender of such fugitive." If we test the case of Arguelles by this, it will be seen that every principle was violated. No evidences of his criminalty were addreed no judges or magistrates received complaints under oath upon which to issue a warrant for to consider the evidences of criminalty; no certificate was given to any proper executive officer; and no warrant was issued for his surronder. There are meny men now serving the cause of the country gallantly in the these might with equal propriety be surrendered to gratify the hate of European despots because they had dared to assert the liberty of speech. It is true that our treaties provide for a judicial inquiry, before the vilest criminsls can be driven from their place of refuge, but with Spain we have nover negotiated for their surrender upon any terms, and Chancellor Kent says "the United States have no jurisdiction in such cases except under n treaty provision," and when in 1848 Congress passed a law legalizing the snrrender upon extradition and prescribing the manner of procedure, it expressly limited its operations to the existence of any extradition treaty with any foreign government and no onger. If the letter and the spirit of that law have any significance, it is thet there shall be no surrender, under any terms or considerations, where no extradition treaty

The enormity of the outrage which has been committed in the Arguelles case against law, the sanctity of refuge, and national honor, has no parallel, and it is revolting to reflect that it will subject us to the scorn and contempt of the world. The protection of all citizens against arbitrary arrests is the first duty of a government. The Montreal Herald oi the 1st inst., contains a very indignent article, based npon tho fact that when the steemer Asia arrived at Boston a few days previously, a United States Marshal went on board and arrested Mr. Levey, of London being brought before the nuthorlties, he rest, and the Montreal paper was equally ignorant when it denonnced the whole affair as an outrage which called for prompt and decided action on the part of the British Minister at Washington. If this Levey was a fufor his extradition, but they desire that it and they are determined that he shall have the advantage of every safeguard to which the advantage of every safeguard to which the said equipments, of camp and garrison equipments and equipments are calculated as the expense of keeping np their nniforms and equipments. ulations entitle him. Hence it is that when the finger of arbitrary anthority is laid upon a British subject in this country the British Consul immediately communicates the fact to Lord Lyons, and every British peper demands prompt and searching scrutiny into the

But the extreme tenacity of our Government in reference to the rights of its citizens upon foreign soil was signally exemplified during the Pierce Administration in the case of Martin Koszta. He was a Hungarian, who and, when he was arrested in Smyrna by the officers of Austria, Capt. Ingraham demanded his release and obtained it at the cannon's mouth, and, when Austria demanded redress. Wm. L. Marcy, then Secretary of State, wrote a peremptory refusal to the Chevalier Halsemann, at the very rememorance of which the pride and joy. But a case still more in point, which had almost passed from our recolled tion, has been recelled by n correspondent of ton was Secretary of State. A Spanish pristhe instigation of the Spanish Consul audsent communicated by telegraph to Washington, a veesel of war was ordered to Cuba, a peremptory demand was made ior Rey's surrender, and ho was the next day placed again nnder the prond protection of the stars and stripes, from which he had been forcibly torn. but in 1864 the kidnapping of Argnelles is We regard this matter as of exceeding gravity. If the position assumed by the Lincoln Administration is tenable, there are thousands of enr adopted citizens who will be subject to arrest and rendition to the despotic powers of Europe they have offended hy their boldness in years long past. Indeed there is hardly an immigrant from continental Europe who could not be demanded as owing military service to his native government, while the German and Irish refngees would be delivered up to the axe of the headsman or the rope of the executioner for political offences. Once let the precedent be established that our State Depertment bolds in its hands the life and liherty of all foreign residents in the United States, and where can imegination place a limit to the gross abuses which would grow out of its exercise! The policy which Mr. Lincoln now boldly proclaims will reopen the daugeons of the Old World for the recep tion of those who have sought an asylum bere. under the promise of protection, except in those cases where extradition treaties exist, and then they are to he legally, not arbitrarily arrested, and they are to be tried, not kidnapped. Is the Administration preparing to emulate the despotism of Spain and Austria that it makes its fiat superior to the precedents of our history, the requirements of our laws, and the hinding influences of our treaties! If so, let us tear down the statue of Liberty that has just been erected upon the dome of the capitol at | Washington! It should not he left there as a false beacon to lure storm-tossed exiles to our shores that these political wreckers may seize pon them and remand them to the custody of the tyranta from whom they have escaped.

But, unfortunately, wes found that the physical quelifications of the negro were not equal to the hardship of drill and fatigue duty, many of them having in them the seeds of old and snrely fatal lantation life, and many others being as ve onng and immature in hody and marked by ereditary taints. It is surprising to one nnterrible rate of mortality, and to learn ow many have lung and heart diseasea, are broken down by rhenmatic affections, overwork, and ill neage. Thousands died. The regiments dwindled down from five to two or three hundred; recrniting was stopped by au order from General Banks, which contemplated the retention of as than able-bodied blacks as possible on the Gov ernment plantations; officers began to grow discorraged; resignations became the order of theday; disappointment on the pay question demoralized the men. All these canses combined to have an unfavorable offect

The rebel papers contain a very sicaificant correspondence between Gov. Z. B Vance, of North Carclina, and Jeff Davis. The Governor declares that after a careful consideration of all the sources of discontent in his State, he has concluded that it will be impossible to remove it except hy making some effort at negotiation with the Federa Government. He says that the recent action of our Congress, though meaning very little has greatly excited the Southern hope that the Northern mind is looking toward peace The Governor argues that if fair terms are re jected, it will tend greatly to strengthen and atensify the war feeling and rally all classe to the support of the Confederacy. He piteously bewails the fact that the United State will not "let alone" the rebels in their effort to destroy the Government; and, for the sake of lumanity, without subjecting themselves to the imputation of weak or improper motives, it seems to him that they might, withcarnest consideration of Mr. Davis. Jeff in his reply says he has male three

He states these attempts in their order to have been, first, the Commissioners sent before hostilities commenced, whom the Washington authorities would not receive or listen to: next he sent a letter by a military gentleman to Presideut Lincoln, which was received by General Scott with the promiso that an answer should be sent, but none has ever been received; the third and last was the effort of Alex. H. Stephons, but he was refused a passage through our lines, and turned back before he reached Fortress Monroe on his way to Washington. Under these circumstances Jeff has come to the conclusion that any future attempt to send Commissioners or agents to proposo peace would be to invite insult and contimely, and to subject the rebels to indignities without the slightest chances of being listened to. We might feel a pang of regret that these proceedings were all intile; but Jeff says that the only peaco they desired was upon the sine qua non that "they should be let alone," the meaning of which is, that the rehels should not be punished for their unparalleled crimes, and that we should permit them to keep all they have stolen without holding them to any necountability. So long as Jeff Davis is animated by this insane hope, sc iong must the war continue, and just us soon as he really desires peace he can obtain it. But his agents must not expect recognition while he is maintaining the rebellion; let him order the Confederate armies to lay nown their weapons, and then it will be easy to arrange the terms. Indeed, they know the only terms npon which they can hope for pacification. They must acknowledge the authority of the United States Governmeut; they must declere their fealty to the United States Conetitution, and they must submit themselves to the enforcement of the United States laws. To do this, a great deal will have to be undons, but as it is inevitable, as the precedent condition of peace -indeed, our sine qua non-the rebels would

Too much cannot be seld of your Pilis for the care of coliveness. If others of our fraturally have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although had enough in itself, is the progenitor of eithers that are worse. I listice continenss to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and curs the disease.

From Mrs. E. Susart, Physician and Midseife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effecting to cleane the stomach and expelsions. OROERED TO THE FRONT .- Cel. Fairleigh, he post commandant, received an order yes-Gsn. Ewing, directing him to relieve all men, third heat, came in first. Mr. Alexander enflicers, and soldiers, whose regiments are not tered a protest, claiming that the horse, cluded in the command of the district of itucky, who are now on detached duty in and order them to raport to their ctive regiments without delay. The orer is of a sweeping nature, for if it is rigidcarried ont many officers and soldiers who re suffering from wounds and disease, and who are barely able to perform light postdnty, will not be exempted from going forward. We presume that something of the kind is necessary to reach n few individuals who always shirk from danger, and avoid going to the front by sheltering themselves behind surgeons' certificates of disability. urgeons are often imposed upon, and it is ectimes difficult to decide who are really t for severe duty. We are of the opinion Gen. Shermao does not desire to impede ne movements of his army by an influx of disabled officers and soldiers, but that he wants all of the able bodied mon in the field who for months have been shirking in the rear. It is but fair to presome that a rigil examination of men fit for the field will take place at Nashville, and those really disabled will be returned to light post-duty. To tho sick and wonnded the order may seem unnecessarily harsh and severe, yet they should not grumble, for its ultimate working will prove for the best

MELANCHOLV SUICIOE .- Maoy of onr citizens were startled yesterdsy morning by the faint voice would permit. Considerable time was occupied in convening he court and perfecting arrangements to prod with the trial. Able connect have been eng ged for the prosecution and defence, and the record promises to prove quite voluminons. The trial will occupy several days. But one witness was examined yesterday. The conrt meets again at 10 o'clock to-day

ABRESTED .- George W. Walker was arrested yesterday on board the Cincinnati mailboat. He served some time with the 6th rebel Kentucky infantry, but left the army in O:tober last, and came inside of Federal lines without reporting himself to any Provost Marshal or Government official. He has been at home since that time, and has never taken an oath of allegiance or an obligation of any kind to the United States Government. He was sent to the Military Prison yesterday, and will be held until his case can be more thoroughly investigated.

BARRACKS NEWS -The receipts at the barracks yesterday were one hnudred convalescents, from various points, and twelve deserters from Cincinnati. The transfers were ten stragglers to Cincinnati, two to Camp Chase, and one hundred and twenty-seven to Nashville. Six prisoners were forwarded to Nash-

COURT-MARTIAL .- The evidence for the defence in the case of Capt. Benjamin W. Tucker was taken yesterday, and the case finished by the recording of the sentence. Norris Dodd, sergeant in the 83d company Veteran Reserve Oorps, will be arraigned and tried to-day, charged with larceny.

Joseph Burdett, found guilty of larceny; Calvin McDanisl, of horse-stealing; l Thomas Easten, of robbery, were received city jall last night, having been convicted by the Metcalf County Conrt and sentenced to the State penitentiary for four years each. They will be forwarded to Frankfort ARBEST OF DESERTERS .- R. H. King, of company L, 6th Kentncky cavalry, and Leo Henderson, of company H, 2d Kentucky iufantry, were arrested in this city yesterday, charged with being deserters. Heuderson is also charged with stealing a horse from Capt. Womack. METHODIST ANNUAL CONFESENCE.-A Bote from G. W. Merritt, P. E. Shelbyville Digtrict, informs as that he is authorized by Bishop Kavanangh to announce that the Ken-tncky Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church Sonth, will meet at Mayevillo on the seventh day of next September. of Robert Macaire, with Macanley as the chevalier and Sam Ryan as Jacques Strop, and the Ledger drama of the Hidden Hand-Capitola, Miss Devin, and Wool, Sam Ryan. We understand that this is the last week of the dramatic season. At the Louisville Theatre on Tuesday evening next, Mr. J. R. Devenish, the very attentive assistant in the Treasnrer's office, will take a benefi. He has on all occasions been so courteous to the patrous of the theatre that they will gladly remember him on One hundred and sixty-five rebel prisoners of war were forwarded from the Mili-Mson in this city yesterday. Six commissioned officers were sent to Johnson's Island, and one hundred and fifty-nine pri-cinnati, to be mustered out of the service.

WOOOLAWN .- The races were well attended yesterday, and, as a general thing, passed off in a quiet and satisfactory manner. At the rnnning of the second race some excitement was created. Stonewall Jackson, in the Stonewall Jackson, was four years old. Three udges were called in to investigate the question. They decided that the horse was over three years old and under four, and gave the race to Mr. Alexander.

A correspondent with the 66th Indiann regiment, of General Sherman's army, writes to the New Albany Ledger:

In the fight on the 18th ult, they were opposed by the 2d, 3d, and 6th Kentucky rebel regiments, raised at Louisville and in that neighborhood. The rebels attacked with fixed bayonets, but the 66th maintained its line, and repulsed the assailants with a settling his bill. On ascending the flight of loss to them of 600 klllcd, wounded, and cap-steps leading to the garret, the servant was loss to them of 600 klllcd, wounded, and cap-tured. LOUISVILLE TREATRE-Benefit of Addie Anderson.—This evening the drama of Joan of Arc will be produced, with Miss Addie After which the patriotic drama of Putnam, n which Mr. Miles appears as the "Iron Son '76." Miss A. is the best actress of the varions equestriennes now riding the race for popular favor, but we do not think she is the finest specimen of flesh-and-blood statuary, though that is a matter of mere opinion. Strawberries are in profusion in onr market at present, and of the finest flavor we ever enjoyed. We have seen pictures of large strawberries in the agricultural journals frequently, but never saw the reality until yesterday, at J. W. Swecncy's, who had them about the size of a common plum. It required no great exercise of cuuning skill to divide them iuto quarters.

Charles Hunt, of company D, 1st Kenncky volunteers, when the regiment reached Vashville, attempted repeatedly to pass the gnard on the Government levee. He was finally bayoneted by the guard, and was not expected to recover at last accounts.

Dr. Hill's annual exhibition will be held at his school-honse, near Hobbs's Depot, on Wednesday, Jnne 8th. Oars will leave Louisville at 9 A. M. and 4:20 P. M. and at 7 P. M. and return at 11 at night.

CAIRO, June 5. The latest arrivals from below report the anks of the river, below Vicksburg, to he iterally swarming with gnerillas, and, notwithstanding the greatest vigilance of the tin-clads that paired the river, they succeed in inflicting great damage npon our commerce. The rebels are reported by the last arrival to have three batteries erected between Natchiz and Vicksburg, and, if this is troe, these bat-teries have no fears of the tin-clads, but can easily sink them if they come in rango. It will require the old iron-clads, and, perhaps, a regular expedition, to clear them out. Gen. Canhy bas recently issued stringen orders in regard to guerillas, and many hoped that he would rid at least the river of these pests; but the bold buccaneers laugh at orers and proclamations, and they seem only to old-blooded mnrders. Yesterday a Federal Captain, with twelve men, started from Caps Girardean for New Madrid, Mo., for the pnrse of enrolling the citizens of the latter ce. When within a few miles of their destination they were fired upon by a company of guerillas, represented as seventy strong. The gnerillas killed the Captain and two men, and mortally wounded a sergeant, who fell into their hands. They killed several horses, and wounded five of the men, some of them slightly. The nine that were left saved themselves by a rapid flight.

Americans admit that woman holds the throne of the world, that the husband is the reflex of the wife, the sous of the mother, and the danghter, as the monldsr of futurs honseholds, demands a limited education. In literary matters woman is allowed the same wide freedom granted as to all other things. and the result is that she has attalued distinguished success in departments hitherto mouopolized by meu, whils her sfforts, even in those seemingly most incongruous, are looksd upon with somewhat of that amiable tolerauce which moves a parent whou listening to the verbal absurdities of a prattllug child.

There is in this much that is gratifying, yet there is a vagueness that is bewildering, and American women have not yet learned how to appreciate or make the most of their advantages. Dear Sir—I feel it dae to your excellent preparation.

Boofiand's German Bitters, to add my testimony to the deserved reputation it has cotained. I have for years, at times, been troabled with great disorder im my head and nervons system. I was avvised by a friend to try a hottle of yoar Oorman Bilters. I did so, and have experienced great and unexpected relief; my health has been very materially benefited.
I confidently recommend the article where I meet with cases similar to my own, and have been assured by many of their good effects.

THIS BITTERS IS

IN THE WORLD.

I have known Hoofiand's Germen Bitters favarably for a number of yeers. I have used them in my own family, and have been so pleased with their effects that I was induced to recommend them to many others, ead knew that they have operated in a strikingly beneficial manner. I take great pleasers is thus publicly proclaiming this fact, and salling the stienties of those afflicted with the dieseless for which they are recommended to these Bitters, knewing from experience that my recommendation will be sustained. I dethis more obserting as Hoofiand's Bitters is intended to bessit the efficiency and is "nos a rum

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Mediclees in seneral, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of me enfident reasons why e man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have reselved from eay simple preparation, is the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of ethers.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofand's Gereice Bitters, prepared hy Dr. O. M. Jeckson, this city, because I was projudiced against them for many years, sader the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am ladebed to my friend, Robert Shoemker, Req., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when saffering from great and long continued debility. The sac of three bottless of these bitters at the baginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodity and unexal vigor which I had not felt far six mentals before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God ann my friend for directing me to nee them.

WARBEN RANDOLPH,

Garmantown, F. Oburch, Philadeiphia,

Dear Sir-Having used your German Bitters in may family frequently, I am prepared to say that it has been of groat service. I believe that is most cases of general debility of the system it is the affest and most valuable remedy of which I have any knowledge.

Yours, respectfully, J. H. TORNEE,
